To Cartus Stakeholders:

For the last 60 years, Cartus has helped families settle in to new homes, new communities, and new experiences. As we mark this milestone in Cartus’ history, our promise to provide “trusted guidance” applies not only to supporting our clients and their relocating employees but also how we give back to our communities around the world. When you operate in more than 185 countries, measuring success becomes more than just an accounting exercise: it relies on an understanding of—and sensitivity toward—the many cultures and environments we work with and within.

As such, we actively support the ten principles of the UN Global Compact by continuing our efforts in the key areas of concern (Human Rights, Labor, Environment, Anti-corruption). Over the last year, we have made exciting strides in these areas with new initiatives and practices, all described in the Global Citizenship Report that follows.

Highlights of our progress include:

- Remaining focused on worldwide compliance in the environmental and human rights circles, evidenced by continued efforts in every aspect of our business—including our new Environmental Policy and continued emphasis on supplier compliance.
- Working to protect our clients by maintaining stringent controls to ensure data integrity and protection, including policies and procedures for protection of private information, SSAE 16 and ISAE 3402 compliance, and Safe Harbor self-certification.
- A record-breaking year in terms of charitable contributions as Cartus employees around the world raised more than US$400,000 through various events and volunteered hundreds of hours of time to their chosen causes and communities.
- And, as always, being guided by the concept of what’s right: a focus on ethical behavior that unifies our practices and interactions. For the fourth straight year, our parent company—and by extension, Cartus—was named one of the World’s Most Ethical companies. We work diligently to earn this designation every day.

A lot has changed over the last six decades, but one thing that hasn’t is our commitment to social responsibility and global citizenship. Once again, I encourage you to read the report and witness the spirit of giving represented by Cartus and the people who make up our company.

President and CEO
what we do
Help Families Find Their Way to New Homes, New Communities, and New Experiences

Our expertise began 60 years ago, when Cartus first offered U.S. domestic homefinding assistance. Since then, we have grown to become the most trusted guide in the global relocation industry.

- Cartus is the industry leader in mobility support to organizations worldwide. With nearly 2,900 Cartus employees—more than 800 based in EMEA and APAC—and 18 offices worldwide, our clients trusted us to assist more than 171,000 employees and their families into and out of nearly 150 countries in 2014.

- Our services cover every aspect of the relocation process—from selling a home and shipping household goods to settling into new communities around the world. We provide logistical support as well as international assignment compensation services, intercultural and language training, consulting services, real estate assistance programs, and talent management and retention.

- Cartus is part of Realogy Holdings Corp (NYSE: RLGY), a global leader in real estate franchising and provider of real estate brokerage, relocation, and settlement services.
The Cartus culture drives everything we do—both collectively as an organization and individually as members of the Cartus family. As part of that culture, our focus on global citizenship reflects our commitment to the ten principles of the UN Global Compact. Specifically, this commitment shows not only in how we provide service to our clients and their relocating employees, but also in what our company and employees give back to our communities and our planet.

Mission
We come to work every day to help our customers and clients succeed, fulfilling the needs and earning the trust of those whose lives we touch.

Vision
We will provide trusted guidance by sharing and leveraging our vast body of knowledge and experience to create superior solutions, build relationships, and bring more value to all our stakeholders. We will work together each day to achieve excellence in all we do, fostering trust and confirming our leadership position in the markets we serve.

Values
Service: We are defined by our service.
Financial Responsibility: We manage all resources as if they were our own.
Respect: We respect others and treat people well.
Collaboration: We are better when we work together.
Ethical Behavior: We do the right thing.

As a business participant in the UN Global Compact, Cartus has made a commitment to integrate the ten principles into our strategic planning and day-to-day operations. The following Communication on Progress (COP) details our efforts to fulfill this mission.
UN Global Compact Principles

Human Rights

Principle 1: Support and respect the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights.
Principle 2: Ensure that the company is not complicit in human rights abuses.

Labor

Principle 3: Uphold the freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining.
Principle 4: Work to eliminate all forms of forced or compulsory labor.
Principle 5: Work to effectively abolish child labor.
Principle 6: Eliminate discrimination with respect to employment and occupation.

Environment

Principle 7: Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges.
Principle 8: Undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility.
Principle 9: Encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies.

Anti-corruption

Principle 10: Work against corruption in all forms, including extortion and bribery.

Cartus Efforts

Because Cartus is a service-based business, the services we offer are only as good as our people. Our mission is to provide trusted guidance so our clients and customers succeed—that is our focus. As part of this mission, we follow the UN Global Compact human rights principles according to the nature of our business.

We are an extremely diverse global organization, including age, gender, religion, heritage, family, interests, experiences, and style. This diversity helps everyone—from employees to suppliers worldwide—expand their understanding of the world, and these differences foster richly varying perspectives.

As a corporate citizen of planet Earth, we are committed to reducing the environmental impact of our company and continually look at multiple ways to reduce our carbon footprint and to educate our employees on conservation activities. Through these efforts, we show our commitment to the environmental principles of the UN Global Compact.

We know that how we carry ourselves and treat others affects how our stakeholders ultimately view our company. In support of this goal, we maintain a Compliance and Ethics program that includes specific anti-corruption policies and procedures; key components include our Code of Ethics and Key Policies, the two cornerstone documents of our corporate culture. The result: our parent company has been named one of the World's Most Ethical Companies for four straight years.
our people
At Cartus, we respect others and treat people well. We show respect to everyone we interact with, internally and externally, earning both their confidence and their trust in return. Being both global and diverse, we are attuned to the nuances of culture and diversity. We foster and sustain an environment that is inclusive and supportive; we consider this essential to both the excellence of our work and to the company we strive to be. We create opportunities for our employees to get involved, build satisfying careers, balance life and work, and grow personally and professionally.

Comprehensive Health and Safety Program

Highlights of the ways in which we continued to encourage and support the overall health and safety of Cartus employees this past year include:

- Our offices around the world held wellness fairs, health screenings, and information sessions as part of a workplace program to promote healthy living. For example, on National Wear Red Day® — the first Friday of each February — Cartus employees around the world brought attention to women’s battle with heart disease by donning crimson-, scarlet-, and ruby-hued shirts to show support for the cause.

- Our Crisis Management team updated the company’s Pandemic and Infectious Disease plan to reflect further changes in direction from the World Health Organization.

- Through our parent company, Realogy, we provide access to a wellness portal where employees can review their health statistics, manage their healthcare, and learn about wellness opportunities available to them. Realogy’s wellness program, called iThrive, frequently communicates useful information on topics ranging from fitness and nutrition to mental health and fiscal responsibility.

- Our Danbury headquarters completed a major overhaul of its onsite security system and process, including reducing the number of entrances to the building and installing new proximity-sensor turnstiles to eliminate “tail-gating” and confirm whether an employee is inside or outside the building in the event of an emergency.

- Our Facilities and Security teams implemented a revamped training schedule for all designated Floor Wardens, who are responsible for organizing and directing employees in the event of an emergency.

- Cartus was awarded a Singapore HEALTH Gold Award for excellence in workplace health programs, presented by the Health Promotion Board.

- In 2014, the onsite Wellness Center in our Danbury headquarters — staffed by a physician assistant and nurse practitioner — supported nearly 3,500 visits. Since it opened 12 years ago, Cartus employees have made more than 48,000 visits to the center. By doing so, they have saved hundreds of thousands of dollars in co-pays and health insurance fees.

At Cartus, understanding and accepting cultural diversity remain key to our core value of Respect. We embrace diversity because it resonates with our value to respect and welcome differences. Our sensitivity to each other and to our customers’ unique and individual needs not only makes us a better service provider, but also makes us a richer, more vibrant company.

In our hiring and advancement practices, Cartus continues to disregard race, color, religion, national origin, citizenship, age, sex, gender, sexual orientation, sexual preference, veteran status, marital status, disability, or any other characteristic protected under applicable laws and regulations. We make reasonable accommodations for qualified disabled employees and applicants.

We are particularly proud of our gender diversity.

The Cartus Global Diversity and Inclusion Council, executive sponsored by President Kevin Kelleher, has coordinated inclusion activities across our company.

Through the Diversity Council and its associated resource groups, we create an inclusive environment in our offices and learn more about one another. Diversity events have included:

- Diversity & Inclusion Week, featuring dozens of unique events across the globe, such as employees learning folk and country dances from around the world and International Food Day, which saw employees bring in dishes from different cultures to share with coworkers.
- A “Get Involved” Fair for employees to find out about all the groups, clubs, and organizations available.
- A Veterans Wall of Honor created in three of our offices for the second straight year. More than 150 Cartus employees from our offices worldwide submitted photos and stories of their loved ones for the walls.
- “What Would You Do?” Lunch & Learn exploring reactions and observations to the controversial scenes acted out in the hidden-camera reality show of the same name.
- Regular communications and events celebrating various heritage/identity months, including Black History Month, Gay Pride Month, and Hispanic Heritage Month.
- A monthly photo contest featuring Cartus employees at work, at play, and at special celebrations, or reflecting Cartus’ global footprint with local festivals, iconic features, or landscapes. The winning images will be featured in the 2016 Diversity Calendar.

Collectively, our employees speak more than 50 languages worldwide.

As part of our core value of Respect, Cartus creates opportunities for our employees to get involved, build satisfying careers, balance life and work, and grow personally and professionally. Evidence of the value we place on our employees includes the exceptional benefits Cartus provides, including:

ethics and compliance
Being ethical and compliant in everything we do—“doing the right thing”—is a core Cartus value. This value mandates ethical behavior in all our business dealings. We conduct ourselves and our business with the utmost integrity. We comply with our internal and external commitments, and we make the ethical choice whenever challenges present themselves. Our culture of integrity as a company is absolute and non-negotiable.

As part of the Realogy value circle, we are proud to be named to Ethisphere® Institute’s “World’s Most Ethical Companies” (WME) list for the fourth consecutive year. The WME designation recognizes companies that truly go beyond making statements about doing business ethically and translate those words into action.

Our company’s efforts to continue doing the right thing include:

- Maintaining the 24/7 Ethics Hotline, where employees can raise concerns or ask questions about ethical issues. The Code of Ethics Line is accessible in 200 languages, either by phone or by Web.
- Annual required Compliance and Ethics training for all Cartus employees, including:
  - Code of Ethics and Key Policies
  - Information Management and Security
  - RESPA & Global Anti-Bribery
- Regular distribution of a series of lighthearted-yet-serious “Ethical Moments” videos by The Second City Communications to enliven existing ethics and compliance education and training programs.
- Maintaining a collection of Manager Toolkits with the Ethical Leadership courses provided for employees who have one or more direct reports.
The security for all of our systems remained a key focus for us in 2014 as we:

- Launched a new information security awareness program to help employees avoid falling victim to phishing. Each month, all employees are immersed in simulated phishing scenarios in order to provide training and raise awareness around the sophistication and dangers of phishing.
- Were subject to regular reviews by our clients, external auditors, and other professional oversight organizations.
- Successfully completed one full Disaster Recovery Exercise as well as participated in two Realogy Disaster Recovery Exercises.
- Ensured seamless service and business delivery in the face of 30 major weather-related events globally through our Business Continuity plans.
- Received annual SSAE 16 and ISAE 3402 certification covering key controls over our domestic and international relocation accounting services.
- Protected data by implementing encryption strategies for data backups and data at rest.

Additionally, penetration tests are used to determine security weaknesses of a computer system, network, or Web application to find vulnerabilities that an attacker could exploit. They can also be used to test an organization’s security policy compliance, its employees’ security awareness, and the organization’s ability to identify and respond to security incidents. In 2014, Cartus was subject to penetration testing by multiple independent third-party resources to verify compliance.

Corporate Compliance & Ethics Week
Corporate Compliance & Ethics Week is celebrated the first full week of November every year as a means to highlight the importance of ethics and compliance in our workplace.

In 2014, Cartus systems blocked more than 34 million spam messages and over 2,600 viruses. They also encrypted 5.1 million messages.
caring for our communities
In 2014, Cartus employees around the world raised more than US$400,000 through charitable events in support of the United Way, Community Health Charities, American Cancer Society, Junior Achievement, March of Dimes, Red Cross, British Heart Foundation, Children in Need, Dementia UK, Singapore Cancer Society, Children’s Aid Society of Singapore, and many other charities supported by our employees. Our people also donated hundreds of hours of time to their chosen causes and donated food, clothing, and other goods to where they were needed.

environmental stewardship
At Cartus, we are committed to staying abreast of the ever-growing environmental needs of our industry and our clients, and pursuing and maintaining high corporate environmental standards. Therefore, we are constantly developing and implementing new policies and procedures as we see the need.

In 2015, we published the Cartus Environmental Policy to demonstrate our commitment to promoting environmental protection, preventing pollution, supporting sustainable development, and minimizing waste.

In addition, our Conservation Committee has been in place for a dozen years, looking for ways to decrease our environmental impact as a company and educate our employees on conservation activities. We participate in the Carbon Disclosure project and continually look to reduce our footprint in all areas. We are also working to establish additional baseline measures (e.g., travel miles, domestic and international air travel) to set more meaningful goals.

- In 2014, the Connecticut Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP) recognized Cartus for our efforts to protect the environment and natural resources. Cartus was one of just 16 Connecticut businesses and individuals to receive the award. The award underscored our positive environmental impact, some of which is credited to the Cartus rideshare program that has hundreds of registered riders, with the majority using rideshare on a weekly basis.

- The Cartus Conservation Committee sponsors the annual Danbury Earth Day Fair, which provides our employees with environmental and conservation products and services for both home and office. This year’s fair had 600-plus attendees.

- Where Cartus has control over the building, we continually look to make improvements with the environment in mind. For example, we are replacing our HVAC equipment in Danbury with much more energy-efficient units, including boilers and rooftop units. In Swindon, we are replacing our diesel generator tank with a double-layer tank to further ensure there will be no chance of leakage.

- Cartus currently has two printer and toner recycle programs, one for multifunction printers that are being recycled by the manufacturer and another that donates any small desktop printer cartridges to a school recycling program.

- The Cartus purchasing program enables employees to purchase office supplies made from recycled materials.

We continually look for ways to decrease our environmental impact.
Other ongoing conservation efforts include:

- Window blinds are systematically closed during days of extreme temperatures.
- Non-essential lighting throughout the facility is turned off during days of extreme temperatures.
- Computer monitors enter sleep mode after 10 minutes of non-usage. Each monitor only consumes the same amount of electricity as a 75W light bulb.
- Computers, printers, and photocopiers are programmed to switch to power-save mode when they have been idle for a specified period of time.
- All computer monitors are turned off at the end of the business day.
- Overhead lighting is turned off each day at 11:00 p.m.
- Motion-sensing faucets and toilets have been installed in most of our bathrooms.

Our global recycling efforts in 2014 resulted in these accomplishments:

- Cartus’ office supply recycling program saves the company an estimated US$25,000 annually.
- We recycled approximately 30 tons of commingled waste—material that will not end up in landfills.
- Our employees recycled 806 pounds of lamps, batteries, and other office items.
- Use of Shred-it® bins resulted in an estimated 1,759 trees saved.

Carpooling—Because Our Environment is Riding on YOU

In 2014, the Cartus Conservation Committee sponsored our second annual International Transit Day. Cartus employees all over the world joined together to make a positive impact on the environment by sharing a ride, walking, taking a train or a bus, or riding a bike to work—and in some cases, using roller skates, skateboards, and tricycles.

The goal of this event was to decrease (and track) our company’s carbon footprint in an effort to raise environmental awareness.

Cartus also hosted multiple transit-related lunch and learn sessions promoting its ridesharing initiatives, called “Find your Perfect Ride,” in its Danbury headquarters.

Hundreds of Cartus employees worldwide participated in our second annual International Transit Day, saving approximately 237 gallons of gas and reducing emissions by approximately 2.3 tons. Click above to view the video.

sustainable procurement
Our commitment to global sustainability extends to managing the suppliers we use to serve our clients and their employees. Cartus has maintained ISO 9001:2008 certification for 10 years, and we manage a network of suppliers around the globe who provide support to clients and assignees in more than 185 countries in every key phase of the relocation experience, including destination support, home finding, temporary housing, and household goods shipment. Our networks are experienced and monitored by 95 regionally based Cartus Supply Chain staff, facilitating accurate, proximate monitoring and support.

- Cartus holds every member of our supply chain to the same standards we apply to our efforts. Each network supplier signs a contract agreeing to full compliance with all laws and regulations.
- Our global network suppliers undergo mandatory annual ethics and compliance training.
- Cartus has invested in a risk management system called Compliance 360, which allows Cartus to easily document, monitor, and report on inherent risk factors associated with managing third-party vendors. The system tracks hundreds of data points that provide a view into the global compliance of each and every network member. We ensure that our network consists of reputable vendors that have passed the highest level of scrutiny in the industry.

We strongly encourage our supplier partners to develop and implement innovative solutions to sustainability challenges in the services they provide our clients. Over the last year, some of these solutions included:

- A property management partner’s new app, which eliminates the requirement for a field agent to print out a six-page walkthrough form.
- A renewed focus on environmental initiatives by our van line partners, many of whom have implemented specific truck-idling mandates and invested in auxiliary power units to save fuel and significantly reduce air pollution. One of our van line partners is investing in the research and development of solar panels for moving trucks to reduce engine run-time and fuel consumption.

Mike Brannan presents Cartus’ Global Citizenship Award to The Arpin Group, Inc., of Rhode Island. This award is given annually to a Cartus supplier who is committed to making an impact on the health, welfare, and safety of others.
Cartus is dedicated to promoting supplier diversity and building it into our corporate culture. Since establishing a formal department in 1983, Cartus has become a recognized leader in this area and the recipient of numerous awards. Our supplier diversity team conducts outreach, monitoring, and measurement on behalf of numerous clients.

To achieve these goals, the department focuses on developing and maintaining bidder lists of small, minority-, and women-owned business enterprises (S/M/WBEs) from all possible sources, while also ensuring the inclusion of S/M/WBEs in all solicitations for products or services which they are capable of providing. To ensure an equitable distribution of business, we periodically rotate potential subcontractors on bidder lists and require the bid proposal review board to document its reasons for not selecting low bids submitted by S/M/WBEs.

In 2014:

- Cartus disbursed US$43.9 million to small, minority-, and women-owned businesses. Over the past five years, we have disbursed more than US$225 million.
- Tom Davis—Cartus’ Vice President of External Supplier Diversity—was elected chairperson of the Greater New England Minority Supplier Development Council’s (GNEMSDC) board of directors.
- Cartus President and CEO, Kevin Kelleher, was again a keynote speaker at the GNEMSDC Advanced Leadership Program.
